MY STORY

Besides English as my second language, I chose Chinese as my bachelor's degree to better adapt to the world's emerging economic landscape. This decision reflected my interest in global trends and my desire to build cross-cultural communication skills for future opportunities.

My motto: "Lifelong learning is the key that unlocks extraordinary career opportunities." And with this, I achieve my career dream. Let me tell you how I did it!

TESTIMONIAL

"I had the pleasure of teaching Thalia Nguyen in the Business Communications course at Saskatchewan Polytechnic, and I remember her as a thoughtful, hardworking, and genuinely kind student. Thalia consistently approached her work with care and professionalism, participating fully in class and demonstrating a sincere commitment to improving her communication skills. Her written work was well-organized and clear, and she delivered her presentations with confidence and warmth. Thalia is the kind of person who contributes positively to any team environment—reliable, respectful, and eager to learn. I'm confident she will bring the same dedication and integrity to any role she pursues."

"I had the pleasure of working alongside Thu, and I can confidently say that she is an inspiring leader and a truly dependable colleague. Her ability to stay calm under pressure, communicate clearly, and lead by example consistently brought out the best in our team. Thu combines strategic thinking with a hands-on approach — whether it's navigating complex challenges or supporting others to grow in their roles. She naturally builds trust and motivates those around her with both professionalism and empathy. Any team would be lucky to have her."
